KPIT Cummins ranked among top global outsourcing providers

Moves up 35 places in 2007 Global Outsourcing 100; chosen among the top 13 firms providing services to the automotive industry globally

Mumbai, 17 May 2007: KPIT Cummins Infosystems Ltd (BSE: 532400; NSE: KPIT), a global IT consulting organisation, today announced that it had been rated as one of the top outsourcing firms in the Global Outsourcing 100. The list comprises of the top companies from around the world providing the full spectrum of outsourcing services in areas such as facility services, real estate and capital asset management, manufacturing, logistics and not just information technology and business process outsourcing.

Compiled by the International Association of Outsourcing Professionals (IAOP) following a rigorous global application & judging process, the Global Outsourcing 100 is the definitive ranking of outsourcing service providers. KPIT was ranked in the list of established leaders rising 35 spots from last year to rank 38. The jury found customer testimonials as the key strength area.

In addition to the top 100 list, KPIT is judged as one of the top 13 outsourcing firms offering:

- Product Research, Development, Manufacturing services
- Services to the automotive industry
- Services delivered in Asia

Commenting on the achievement, Mr. Girish Wardadkar, President and Executive Director, KPIT Cummins Infosystems Ltd., said, “We are thrilled that our leap in the outsourcing business has been recognized in the industry significantly. We strive to be in the top ten next year by focusing on the innovative practices in technology and further strengthen our financial performance. We will continue to focus on providing high value to our customers globally.”

Companies were evaluated on 18 criteria that included revenue, growth, number of employees, skills and training of their workforce, certifications held, track record of the management team, and the quality of customer service.
